Come Home, Come Home.

By ARTHUR HUGH CLOUGH.

Other selections from Clough, his portrait, autograph, and biographical sketch have already been printed in this series.

OME home, come home! and where is home for me Whose ship is driving o'er the trackless sea? To the frail bark here plunging on its way, To the wild waters, shall I turn and say To the plunging bark, or to the salt sea foam,

Fields once I walked in, faces once I knew, Figure 1 walked in, laces once I knew, Familiar things so old my heart believed them true, These far, far back, behind me lie; before The dark clouds mutter, and the deep seas roar, And speak to them that 'neath and o'er them roam

Beyond the clouds, beyond the waves that roar, There may indeed, or may be not be, a shore Whore fields as green and hands and hearts as true, And offer exiles driven far o'er the salt sea foam Another home. old forgotten semblance may renew,

But toll and pain must wear out many a day, But toll and pain must wear out many a day,
And days bear weeks, and weeks bear months away,
Ere, if at all, the weary traveler hear,
With accents whispered in his wayworn ear,
A voice he dares to listen to say, "Come
To thy true home."

Come, home, come home! And where a home hath he Come, home, come home! And where a home hath he Whose ship is driving o'er the driving sea? Through clouds that mutter and o'er waves that roar, Say, shall we find, or shall we not, a shore That is, as is not ship or ocean foam, Indeed our home?

RICHMOND ACADEMY.

Grounds and Buildings in Readiness for Opening Monday.

The workmen putting the buildings and grounds of the Richmond Academy in shape for the coming session have completed their work, and Friday the doors of the institution will swing wide to receive the incoming students.

The capacity of the school is limited to matery pupils and although this is only maety pupils and although this is only the third year of this school, it is ex-pected to reach this limit this year. The arge enclosed grounds, the full comple-ment of male teachers, the modern study ment of male teachers, the modern study hall has proven very attractive to the local patronage.

The latest addition to the faculty is Mr. Powhatan James, who was formerly principal of the Peoria Institute in Loudoun county, and who took his bachelor's degree at Richmond College in 1903. His record as a student was of the best, excelling especially in literature and history, while his success as a teacher was most pronounced. Mr. James is already most pronounced. Mr. James is already on the ground as are also Dean W. L. Foushee, who will have charge of the Latin work, and Dr. Robert A. Stewart, of the modern language department. Dr. Carroll M. Baggarly, who will be instructor in science, and the other teachers, are expected to arrive to-day preparatory to taking up their work to-morrow.

On Friday, the opening day, Saturday the matriculation of students and assignments of tasks will take place On Monday regular work will begin, which will be interrupted at 12 o'clock which will be interrupted at 12 ceres, by formal opening exercises, to which parents and friends of the pupils will be welcome. Brief addresses, announcements, and the presentation of a scholarship medal will be the order of exercises. cises. (

The prospects of the Academy are bright, and the year begins under most flattering auspices.

James River Improvement. The Chamber of Commerce will meet in called session this afternoon at 6 o'clock for the purpose of nominating seven members of the Committee on James River Improvement. These members are to be nominated by the Chamber and elected by the City Council from citzens not members of the City Council.

The present members of the committee from the Chamber are Messrs. L. D. Crenshaw, Jr., H. T. Ellyson, John F. Mayer, E. T. D. Myers, Jr., O. H. Funston, E. D. Starke and W. H. Urquhart.

Sunday Seashore Trips Still On.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Sunday outing to the seashore and the Norfolk and Western Triby trips will be continued until October, and, possibly, longer. Both trains will be operated next Sunday and the following Sunday and as long as the patronage justifies them. Travel has held up unusually well on both trains, large crowds going down every Sunday. New Engines in Service.

Engines 181 and 182, two of the large Pacific type passenger locomotives, just built at the Richmond Locomotive Works plant, are now in service on the main line of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway. They are among the most powerful locomotives for passenger service in use. Attending the Grand Camp. Hon, J. and I took them away with me lest they fall into the hands of the wicked. Five—a cloak of fur turned up with minever, a gold goblet with stand and cover, and a box of rose-colored sugar. See that you lay them togethar, Six—a box of monies, three pounds of Limousine gold-work, a pair of boots, silver-tagged, and, lastly, a store of naping linen. So, the tally is complete! Here is a groat aplece, and you may go."

"Go whither, worthy sir?" asked one of the carriers.

"Whither? To the devil if you w.... What is it to me? Now, ma belle, to supper. A pair of cold capons, a mortress of brawn, or what you will, with a flask or two of the right Gascony. I have crowns in my pouch, my sweet, and I mean to spend them. Bring in wine while the food is dressing. Buvons, my brave lads; you shall each empty a stoup with me."

Here was an offer which the company in an English inn at that or any other date are slow to refuse. The flagons were regathered and came back with the white foam dripping over their edges. Two of the woodmen and three of the laborers drank their portions off hurriedly and trooped off together, for their homes were of shonor to the right of the gleeman to the free-handed new-comer. He had thrown off his steel cap and his brigandine, and had placed them with his sword, his quiver and his painted long-how, on the top of his varied heap of plunder in the corner. Now, with his thick, and somewhat bowed less stretched in front of the klaze, his green jerkin thrown open, and a great quart pot held in his corded fist, he looked the pleture of comfort and of good-fellowship. His hard-set face had softened and the hard strength which have been forty years of age, though hard toil and harder pleasure had left their grim marks upon his features. Alleyne had ceased hainting his pled merlin, and sat, brush in hand, staring with open eyes at a type of man so strange and so unnike any whom he has met. Men had been good or had been bad in his catalogue, but here was a man who was flerce one instant and gentle the next, wi

"True, Jenkin," said another workman; but it is not all good that is brought by it either. We well know that through it corn-land has been turned into past-ure, so that flocks of sheep with per-chance a single shepherd wander now where once a hundred men had work and wage."
